

Keep them moving well

Maybe you've noticed your pet is slower to get up? Or maybe shows pain with movement or difficulty going about their normal activities. Developmental problems, injury or normal wear and tear as our pets age can all lead to joint changes, causing reduced mobility, pain and stiffness. The signs can be subtle. Most won't have an obvious limp or whimper in pain, especially if the changes in the joints haven't become too severe yet.

Joint conditions that are associated with these changes (e.g. osteoarthritis) are often degenerative, which means they worsen over time. Helping to maintain joint function and flexibility is key to keeping your four-legged friend comfortable and moving well.

Top tips for looking after your pet's joints

- Keep their weight in check
- Exercise appropriately be led by them
- Avoid high impact activities e.g. ball chasing
- Use mats on slippery floors
- · Lift them in and out of the car or use a ramp
- Use herbal supplements for extra joint support

It's never too early or too late to start looking after your dog's joints.

Our natural herbal supplements are designed for different joint health stages - so, whatever the joint health challenge, we've got it covered!

Active, healthy dogs - joints subject to wear and tear over time

Dogs genetically predisposed to joint problems or have had a previous injury

Dogs actively experiencing joint health challenges

Movewellia

JointWell

If your dog needs additional joint support, our Turmeric Tablets can help to support your pet's natural anti-inflammatory processes. They are the perfect addition to your pet's diet to help maintain your dog's comfort and mobility.

It's important to speak to your vet if you notice your pet is showing signs of joint pain, as some problems may need surgery or specific treatments. Physiotherapy, hydrotherapy and acupuncture may also be options for your pet.

